

To your benefit. Worldwide.

DINplus continues to be the PLUS in quality for wood pellets.

Wood pellets –100 % CO₂-neutral and thus the ideal climate-friendly fuel. We are glad that you have decided on this form of alternative energy. Starting now, you should trust the independent quality mark DINplus and use it as a decision-making aid when choosing your wood pellets.

What you can rely on.

Is one as good as another, or is there such a thing as one-of-a-kind? The mark that shows the difference. With the certification process and the "DINplus" quality mark for wood pellets, you can continue to rely on high-quality wood pellets.

DIN CERTCO,

- one of the few accredited certification bodies for wood pellets in Europe,
- a leader in quality standards that are also included in the European and International standards,
- trustworthy partner of the pellet industry for many years.

Of this you can be certain.

DINplus enables manufacturers to demonstrate the quality of their product and set an example for high-quality wood pellets – based on the International standard DIN EN ISO 17225-2.

We will provide testing for you.

The testing and certification of wood pellets includes testing and assurance of high-quality features of the pellets during manufacturing. Product testing includes, for instance, tests of characteristics such as water content, bulk density and abrasion behaviour.

We will provide monitoring for you.

Would you like to be able to rely on consistently high quality? So would we. That is why we conduct annual monitoring of the manufacturing facility in addition to the product test.

Our mark is for you.

You can see it at a glance, because our DINplus quality mark says more than 1.000 words – in every language.

The pellets were successfully

- tested,
- evaluated,
- certified,
- monitored.

A leader in the wood pellet industry.

DIN CERTCO is the certification company of the TÜV Rheinland Group and the DIN Deutsches Institut für Normung e.V. and is highly regarded both within the country and abroad, due to its independence, neutrality, competence and years of experience.
