General Introduction –

Government Inspections and International Trade

In today's world of trade, success is triggered by the ability to offer the right products at the right time complying with the exact requirements. With increasing globalization, the risk of products and materials not being delivered on time and/or lacking the quality agreed upon grows. At the same time business partners in different parts of the world have the common need for a guarantee that ordered components, materials and equipment align with given specifications.

As a result, governments implement Pre-Shipment Inspection programmes to ensure that imports comply with their national regulations. An independent third party like TÜV Rheinland provides pre-shipment inspection services to ensure that equipment, components and relevant documentation conform to contractual requirements.

Our extensive experience gained in global supply chain projects make us your preferred partner. You can benefit from our know-how and tailored solutions for your business.

Algeria

CERTIFICATE OF CONFORMITY (COC)

The Exporter needs the Certificate of Conformity for any goods being exported to Algeria to conform with legal (Letter of Credit) requirements. The certificate must be issued by an independent third party inspection body being a member of IFIA (International Federation of Inspection Agencies).

In March 2011, the Algerian Ministry of Commerce has published a note to all importers reminding the obligation they have to submit a proof of conformity. The obligation is enforced by law 09-03 issued on 25/02/2009 and decree 05-467 issued on 12/12/2005, on conditions and procedures of conformity control of imported goods at customs.

Commercial Inspection

For many companies, international trade is a mainstay. Buyers often demand the goods to be inspected in terms of quantity, quality, price or conformity with the rules and regulations of the country of destination by an independent third party or within the framework of the Letter of Credit.

Commercial inspection is a service in the foreign trade that serves the smooth movement of goods. Commercial inspections can be conducted in connection with a letter of credit and to ensure that the supplies from the exporting countries are according to buyers requirements.

As an independent third-party we offer following services through an inspection prior to shipment and/after loading:

- Investigation of the delivery for completeness
- Proper packaging
- Conformity with rules and regulations, limited to the visible inspection
- Visual inspection of the condition of the goods
- Loading and unloading supervision
- Customer-specific inspection requirements

TÜV Rheinland provides a report after the inspection. The inspection report is usually a prerequisite for triggering the payment received from the customer in addition to other documents.
